

We'd Love To Get Your Review Of Curry n Kebob

We've been asking for your reviews since we opened in February – both to see how we are doing and because reviews are an important part of a local business getting seen on Google – and I'd like to thank you for your wonderful responses and comments.

It has literally made our day to read how much you have enjoyed our restaurant and our approach to Indian Food.

But of course, just as I thought we had this review process smoothed out, to my surprise on May 30th Google completely changed how they are doing their local business listings.

The upshot is that now only those who are part of their social network, Google +, are able to post a review of a local business on Google (in their new Google + Local section).

Since I know only a few of you may be part of Google +, here's what I've come up with.

If you are part of Google +, and would like to post a review, right now the only way to post a review is by doing so on your computer (they haven't got this working quite right on mobile phones).

On your computer, just enter the URL below, then click on the link on that page in order to go to our Google + Local Page. Once there, click on "Write a Review".

If, on the other hand, you are not a member of Google +, I hope you will instead consider reviewing us on Yelp. Below is the URL that will take you to the page where you can post a review (or you can scan the QR code) --

Thanks again for your help. And please let us know if there is anything we can do to make your dining experience with us even better.
